FOOD AFFAIR... THE NEW DUPONT FOOD PAVILION

Everyone loves food. It brings families together, bridges different cultures and stars in countless television shows. Food is also the top reason visitors attend the Indiana State Fair. This year, the State Fair debuts a brand new 16,000 square foot exhibit dedicated entirely to food!

The DuPont Food Pavilion, located in the heart of the Fairgrounds near the iconic Midway arch, will feature a variety of components of the “food chain,” including the:

- Farmers who grow it
- Chefs who prepare it
- Artisans who craft it
- Issues connected to it

Learning about food is great, but tasting it is even better! Inside The DuPont Food Pavilion, a retail store will feature more than 30 Indiana-made specialty items. Presented by Indiana Artisan and Indiana Grown, the state’s official brands for unique and local foods, the market will offer products like Burton’s Maplewood Farms maple syrup, 240 Sweet gourmet marshmallows and Hoosier Momma Bloody Mary mix, to name just a few.

Across the pavilion, visitors can watch cooking shows at the Red Gold Culinary Corner, a state-of-the-art demonstration kitchen where chefs and food experts will prepare great dishes and answer questions throughout the fair. Topics will range from nose-to-tail cooking to molecular gastronomy. In addition, Indiana Humanities will conduct daily discussions with personalities from the soon-to-be-released book Food For Thought: An Indiana Harvest.

Nutrition is the focus of Purdue University’s MyPlate interactive display where officials will offer advice on how to make healthy food choices at home, in the grocery store, at restaurants and even while visiting the State Fair!

While food is fun, it does have a serious side. Hunger is a growing concern. Fortunately, companies such as DuPont, along with Hoosier farmers and food organizations, are well positioned to help feed the world, and visitors will learn more about some of these important and innovative programs.

So as you celebrate Hoosier Spirit at this year’s fair, take some time to celebrate Indiana food, too. Find out more about the “farm to fork” link and why our food choices are so important. From sea salt caramels to chipotle catsup and celebrity chefs to culinary trendsetters, there’s a lot to love about the DuPont Food Pavilion.

ENTERTAINMENT, EXHIBITS & SPECIAL FEATURES

The State Fair is filled with entertainment – it's everywhere! The daily schedules in the back of this program list everything going on each day, and we've highlighted some of them here. Enjoy!

The DuPont Food Pavilion – Formerly known as the Pioneer Our Land Pavilion, this large exhibit building at the end of Main Street is packed with native Indiana foods, cooking demonstrations and a marketplace for folks who want to take their favorite Indiana foods home. Indiana commodity groups and food manufacturers will offer samples throughout the entire run of the fair!

Ciao Italia – In partnership with the Indiana Economic Development Corporation, The International Center and the Italian Heritage Society of Indiana, the Indiana State Fair presents "Ciao Italia" in the International Pavilion (Grand Hall). This 17-day exhibit features food, facts and fun aspects of Italy and its longstanding connections with Indiana.

International SuperDogs – Unbelievable tricks, uncontrollable energy, aerial stunts and infectious laughter are all part of this fabulous family show in the Dow AgroSciences Celebration Park. More than a dozen highly trained canines run, jump and retrieve in a huge 100' X 25' arena during three daily shows throughout the fair.

MHS pres. Flippenout Extreme Trampoline Show – Trampolines are in backyards everywhere now, but kids: don't try these tricks at home! The athletes in this show reach heights as high as 25 feet as they flip and twist and even jump with snowboards strapped to their feet! This high-energy, synchronized show features former Olympic medalists during 3 or 4 daily performances in the Family Fun Park.

Bixby's Rainforest Rescue starring Iago presented by Indiana WIC, Indiana State Breastfeeding Coalition & Nurse-Family Partnership – Exotic animals play a big part in this dynamic adventure that features Iago and his singing toucan friend, Treetop. The show educates families on the value of conservation while entertaining them with magic, comedy, animal antics and audience participation. The show runs 3 or 4 times each day in the Family Fun Park and the exhibit with 12 live exotic animals are open for viewing each day from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Cowtown USA – Perfect for the "Year of Dairy Cows," this exhibit gives visitors to the Family Fun Park the chance to hand-milk a real cow and participate in the pasteurization process. Participants can take part in creating cheese, butter and ice cream. Even better, they get to sample these "homemade" delights when they're done!

Habitat for Humanity Home – Volunteers for Habitat for Humanity of Greater Indianapolis and Indiana agricultural entities will construct a home on the Fairgrounds' north side for the first 15 days of the fair (with an Open House during the fair's final weekend). The house will be transported to its permanent location after the fair.

Harold Miller Photography Exhibit – Heralded local photographer Harold Miller captures the essence of Indiana County fairs through a collection of recent photographs taken from all over the state. The display on the second floor of the Normandy Barn is available for viewing from 1 to 9 p.m. each day of the fair.
